New Website at Work for Lamar Chamber

The new website for the Lamar Chamber of Commerce is into its final stages of completion. Browsers who click on to the regular web address will get a new home site which is now in its basic form. Various links and additional updated information pertaining to the city of Lamar, retail businesses, chamber members, maps and a calendar of events are still being finalized.

A chamber committee has been at work with the Walden Group, a tourist based marketing group that has been serving the six county region of southeast Colorado for several years. The new website will provide direct updates from the chamber office instead of through the webmaster which will allow for more timely information to be posted. See for yourself at www.lamarchamber.com.
