

Prowers County Youth Fishing Clinic

HOLLY, Colo. - Boys, girls, and families interested in learning more about fishing are invited to attend a free one-day fishing clinic at the Mid Western Farm ponds gravel pit between Granada and Holly on April 21.

"Join us for our annual Kids Fishing Day and try your luck at catching a rainbow trout!" said Linda Groat of the Colorado Parks and Wildlife.

Activities include a day of fishing and instruction from CPW volunteers and staff. Fishing equipment is provided for the kids. Bring your family, lawn chairs, sunscreen and plan for a day of fun!

Boys and girls (accompanied by a parent) are invited to attend from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. There will be a cookout lunch, and prizes for the youngsters.

Participants must call in to register, call Linda Groat at 719-336-6608.

Dates Set for Kiddy Barnyard

Lamar FFA Kiddy Barnyard is held every spring at the LHS ag farm behind the high school and is open to all pre-schools and day cares in town. All students of Washington Elementary and Alta Vista schedule group tours each year. FFA members hope to provide exposure to agricultural education to the youth of Lamar through hands-on activities as well as a petting zoo. The FFA Kiddy Barnyard focus is to educate students on the importance of agriculture and the source of the food on their table everyday.

Dates: Thursday, April 26 (8am to 3:00pm) and Friday, April 27 (8am to 2pm)
