Lamar High School Class of 1964 Sponsors Two Scholarships for Class of 2014

Members of the LHS High School Class of 1964 are planning their 50th year class reunion for later this year. In recognition of this anniversary, they have established two scholarships and have announced the recipients of these two $1300 scholarships. High school seniors Abbie E. Reed and Regina I. Westhoff, who are both bound for college here in Colorado, have been selected to receive these two awards.

Both young women have excelled academically and been very active in other high school activities. Both have demonstrated outstanding citizenship through their involvement and commitment in helping others in our community. Through their extra effort and work, both also have received their Associate of Arts degrees from Lamar Community College. Abbie is the daughter of Scott and Janine Reed. Regina is the daughter of Paul and Yvonne Westhoff.

Tom L. Thompson, who is the LHS Class of 1964 Representative, says the members of his class are extremely proud to be able to offer these young women some help as they embark on furthering their education and continuing work toward achieving their life goals. Well over half of the 1964 Class plan to gather in September in Lamar to reconnect and celebrate their graduation fifty years ago.

These 1964 LHS Alumni will reflect on the changes that have occurred since their early days in Lamar. In 1964, a postage stamp cost five cents and a loaf of bread from Marx Bakery was twenty-one cents. The Ford Mustang was first introduced that year and Sony also announced the first VCR. KLMR was playing music of the Beatles who had just arrived in America.

Congratulations to Abbie and Regina on their accomplishments and recognition!
