Rotary Ducky Dash Winners Announced

Eager youngsters, barefooted or sneakered, raced to the finish line at Willow Creek Park during Lamar Days, May 16, to help select the winners for the 13th annual Lamar Rotary Ducky Dash.

Rotary members had been busy months beforehand, selling tickets for the annual Dash, raising funds for some of the Rotary's projects, including the annual dictionary giveaway to third grade elementary students in the region.

Youngsters volunteered to run a short sprint on grass at the park to determine the winners, who would in turn, draw traditional rubber ducks from the Rotary tumbler. The names drawn would correspond to the ticket winner. In this case, Tri County Ford for a first place finish for $750. Another race winner, Cameron Canete won his heat, but was also the second place winner as drawn by a different racer for the second place prize of $250. There were five winners who received $100 each: Wallace Gas & Oil, Gene Cruikshank, Parker Heat and Air, Misty Lopez and Valley National Bank.

Some other projects conducted by the Lamar Rotary through the year include: Christmas baskets, college scholarships, the Ryla Program which sponsors high school students to an annual leadership conference and the library book project, providing funds to purchase children's books for the library through the year. By Russ Baldwin

Comer and Lira Receive Walter Ely Scholarship Funds

Amber Comer and Rey Lira, both students at Lamar High School, were selected by the SDS board of directors to receive $500 for the 5th anniversary of the Walter Ely Scholarship Fund. The official presentation was held Monday, May 18, at the Southeastern Developmental Services offices on South 4th Street in Lamar.

Each of the students were required to submit a 1,000 word essay as to why they deserved the scholarship, set up five years ago to honor the memory of Walter Ely, who was well known in the Lamar area for his untiring efforts to collect discarded beverage cans which were turned into cash for the SDS clients. Executive Director, Kim Engsburg, had mentioned some time ago that the can collection never ended, and the scholarship funds have become somewhat self-sustaining since that time.

Amber Comer has her college career already marked out and said she's attending college in Texas. "I'm attending West Texas A & M and I'll be majoring in animal science and. The scholarship will help pay for my education as I'm going for my Bachelor's. The funds will also be used for room, tuition and textbooks."

Rey Lira, also from Lamar, is heading to Colorado Springs as he was accepted to the Air Force Academy. Although the tuition is taken care of in return for his commitment to the Air Force on graduation, Lira said he'll use the funds to help pay for his textbooks and some of the military-based items he'll need to attend. As far as his future was concerned, the young man stated, "I'll graduate as a Second Lieutenant and I'm going to major in some form of engineering, and I expect I'll have a clearer picture of how I want to use my education in the future."

Bring Your Flood Stories to Big Timbers Museum

Prowers County Historical Society General Meeting

June 18, 2015 7:00 p.m.

50 Years Ago...

Your memories and your family memories are needed. We want to preserve this part of our history before it is too late. You are invited to come and tell your Flood of '65 stories and to help us remember Lamar's worst natural disaster. If you can't come on June 18th, bring a written account to the museum before the meeting and we will tell or read it for you at the program. PCHS would also like to make these stories into a booklet for this year's fundraiser, so if you can, bring a written version with you—it will save time and help us avoid mistakes—although if you can't bring a written version, that is okay. Call the museum at 336-2472 for more information. Light refreshments served.
